

VISIT US AT LIW 2008

Inflated News is pleased to announce that we will be exhibiting at LIW 2008 at the National Exhibition Centre from 23rd – 25th September.

This will be our third year at LIW and once again we invite all operators to visit us or use our stand as a meeting place. You will find us on stand 1000 in the Family Attractions area.

The Inflatable Play Enterprise (TIPE) will be sharing our stand and an array of existing TIPE subscribers will be on hand to answer your questions about our subscription service.

Peter Grand, Owner/Editor of Inflated News, will be at the show each day and looks forward to meeting as many of you as possible.

Peter said "I have been attending LIW for many years and this will be the fourth year we have been allocated a stand by the LIW team. I always look forward to meeting old friends and making new acquaintances.

Each year we try to come up with new ideas and this year we will have a number of specialist guests available to discuss particular issues. The full programme is not yet ready but we will have a number of TIPE subscribers on hand to talk about their individual experiences, RPII testers to answer questions on annual testing in general, experts on cleaning and maintenance, insurance advice and others. We will attempt to draw up specific times when the various experts will be available.

I am also hoping to have some nice freebies to give away but negotiations are yet to be completed.

The 2008 show promises to be as good as ever. For those who have never been before it is well worth a visit. Do not expect to see hundreds of inflatables because there will not be. What you will get is an interesting range and there are bound to be some new concepts and bargains to be had. You will also be able to view hundreds of manufacturers from all spectrums of the leisure industry. When I was hiring I rarely bought inflatables at the show but always managed to find something else of interest."

Entry to the show is free and you can pre book at www.liw.co.uk
